v.1.1.2

We fixed an issue where Arc would not open as expected when clicking an Arc notification in the Windows notification center

We fixed an issue that caused Sidebar corners to become unrounded when the Sidebar is undocked and in view

We fixed an issue that caused web contents corners to become unrounded when a new tab is created

We fixed an issue where an empty section would appear in the context menu if you right click an empty space in the Sidebar

We've improved how we handle logging when Arc experiences an unclean shutdown. This will help us catch and resolve even more crashes!

We've improved how we handle logging when multiple Arc windows are closed at once. This will help us catch and resolve more crashes that occur when Arc windows are being closed.

We fixed a crash that was impacting a large amount of Members on 1.1.0. This issue was resolved in 1.1.1. You can update by going to the Arc menu > Check for updates or update directly from the installer available on arc.net/download.

Arc 1.1.2 updates to Chromium 124.0.6367.207 which includes a security fix for CVE-2024-4671
